Dear REInspired volunteers and supporters

An update with where things are at with REInspired since we lost a project manager at the end of last term. The REInspired leadership team have met and plan to advertise the position of Project Manager with REInspired Caversham in the hope that we will be able to appoint someone suitable to fill the current gap. Our job advert will be available in the coming days so do be praying as it's circulated that it would reach the ideal person/people! In the short-term, one of our regular volunteers with REInspired Caversham, has kindly offered to do some additional voluntary hours so that we can continue to offer some sessions to schools and keep in touch with them.

Without a second project manager in post, we will not be able to run the high number of sessions that we have done previously, but we hope that by running some sessions, we will maintain the good links we have with our local schools.

We need as much volunteer support as we can get! And please, keep praying!
